

Building Capacity for the Future
Protecting Wildlife Together

33rd SEAZA Conference
16 – 20 November 2025

On behalf of SEAZA and Mandai Wildlife Group, we cordially invite you to the 33rd SEAZA Conference, to be held at the Mandai Wildlife Reserve, Singapore, from 16 to 20 November 2025.

The theme of this year's conference is "Building Capacity for the Future, Protecting Wildlife Together," presenting an opportunity for zoo professionals and conservation leaders to come together, share ideas and ignite transformative conversations.

In line with global zoo community priorities, this conference will focus on strengthening the collective capacity for effective species protection and improving animal welfare and care in zoos. While immediate actions are crucial, we must also look toward the future – building tools, strategies, and collaborations to ensure sustained conservation and animal welfare outcomes. Together, we will explore practical approaches for zoos to enhance animal welfare in our care and increase our impact and effectiveness in wildlife conservation for years to come.

We invite all to participate and your valuable insights will be a vital part of building a strong network for ongoing collaboration and future success.

Yours sincerely,

Dr. Cheng Wen-Haur
